How to Play These Money Math Games

1. Cut out the bills and print the worksheet.
2. Explain that the numbers show bills with higher value.
3. Work with your child to create different ways to add to the given number.
4. For an added challenge, you can use a timer to make it a race. The whole family can get involved!
5. The bills also make great play money for pretend transactions, or as rewards, and can be a great starting point for a conversation about financial responsibility.
